DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 35-80 are objected to because of the following informalities: In the claims, each occurrence of "memory" should be "the memory" or "said memory" since it is referring back to the original recitation of memory. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 35, 37, 47, 49-51, 53, 63, 65-67, 69, 79, and 80 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wilson et al (5908392). Wilson states in the abstract and column 13 that the new snapshots overwrite the data in the circular buffers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 38-46, 54-62, and 70-78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wilson et al.

Wilson discloses the claimed invention except for the steps, instructions, or means for compressing ECG signals prior to recording, for recording noise trigger signals in the ECG data record, and for parsing and displaying waveforms and icons of the trigger and/or noise signals from the ECG signals. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the recording and storage system as taught by Wilson, with the steps, instructions, or means for compressing ECG signals prior to recording, for recording noise trigger signals in the ECG data record, and for parsing and displaying waveforms and icons of the trigger and/or noise signals from the ECG signals since it was known in the art that recording and storage systems use steps, instructions, or means for: compressing ECG signals prior to recording to increase the amount of data that can be recorded; recording noise trigger signals in the ECG data record to determine where the ECG data may be invalid; and parsing and displaying waveforms and icons of the trigger and/or noise signals from the ECG signals so the physician can determine if the system is operating correctly, to analyze all the data at the same time, and/or to determine where arrhythmias may have started or where the ECG signal is invalid due to noise.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 36, 48, 52, 64, and 68 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection necessitated by amendment. The argument that "Wilson does not disclose replacing any electrogram (or ECG) data with a trigger indicator signal" is not persuasive since Wilson uses a circular buffer and overwrites old ECG data with snapshots of data. The snapshots of data include the trigger criteria mark and time stamp (col 9). The request for references to teach elements/steps/instructions, listed in the 103 rejection, that would have been obvious and is well known in the art has been approved. References are being provided with this action and it is noted that several of the references that were in the case and cited in the IDS show these well known elements/steps. The references are Engira and Hsu (icons, display, parsing), Callaghan and Baker (noise), and Bennett et al (compression). Also some of these elements have been indicated by the applicant in the specification as being well known in the art.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 3762

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
